Systematic Risk Managed Global Equity

January 2020

Performance Returns

The Purple Global Adaptive Equity UCITS Fund returned -0.11% for the month (GBP A Share class). Outperforming the MSCI World Index. This gives the fund a net return since launch on 18 Feb. 2016 of +18.08%.

Investment Objective & Strategy

The Montlake Purple Global Adaptive Equity fund is our flagship fund which adapts seamlessly to market conditions by knowing when to take risks and when to preserve capital. It is an extremely useful product for clients who are willing or need to take equity risk but would benefit from the portfolios proactive systematic risk management capability which looks to preserve capital when market conditions deteriorate.

The fund is a global equity fund with a risk management overlay. It holds a basket of equities from the US, European, UK and Japanese markets. These equities are selected based on fundamental data and are chosen on a quality bias.

Each geographical area is treated as a separate portfolio for risk management purposes, with positions being equally weighted to avoid one position dominating performance. It is in our specialised risk system ARES™, however, where this product differentiates itself and adds significant value. This risk system directs the overall level of market exposure that the fund takes in each geographical region, with the ability to be completely hedged across all markets when required. It is this system of allowing the fund to take on market risk in rallies and hedging during downturns that gives the fund its edge.

We expect the fund to outperform over the longer term, particularly over a full market cycle.

Monthly Commentary

Equity markets started the year strongly. However, towards the end of the month, concerns over the spread of a coronavirus from Wuhan in China, accentuated by the Chinese New Year celebrations, forced some selling pressure in equities going into the month end. The fund mainly tracked the MSCI World Index during the course of the month, slightly underperforming in a rising market, and outperforming in a falling market. The fund also exhibits less volatility than the Index. The fund returned -0.11% for the month of January, slightly outperforming the MSCI World Index, which returned -0.32%.

The fund retains the maximum exposure to each of the four markets that we are invested. However, the stock selection for the fund has a more defensive bias than the market which contributed to the outperformance. In addition, the fund holds 15% in cash for risk management purposes which helped as equity markets fell.
